The Friends

Friends of the City Art Centre and Museums is a voluntary group founded in 1973. Its annual subscriptions and fundraising activities support the Edinburgh Museums and Galleries' extensive programme of exhibitions, free collection displays, education and outreach programmes, conservation and acquisitions. Funds raised have contributed towards the purchase of many items for the service, including:

- Works of art by Alexander Nasmyth, Henry Raeburn, William McCance and Victoria Crowe amongst many others
- Silver, porcelain and pewter with historical significance to Edinburgh
- Commissions such as commemorative pieces of engraved crystal
- Help towards the acquisition of the Cramond Lioness, now jointly owned by the City of Edinburgh Council and National Museums Scotland
- Funding of special publications about the City's collections
- ICT equipment to assist with the digitisation of collections

On a practical level the Friends have also purchased folding stools for use during gallery talks and provided resources for children's activities. The Friends actively volunteer with special projects across all areas of the Museums and Galleries Service. If you are interested in helping out in a particular area please get in touch with the Friends' Committee.

The Friends share an enthusiasm for Edinburgh's history and all aspects of Scottish art. If these interest you, do join us and you can be sure of a warm welcome.
